Friday 13 November

- Friday night is the initial gathering, getting to know each other with warm food and company in the Gula Villan 'culture house'. There will be brief presentations from the various partner organizations about where they come from and what they do in the world. Then relax and enjoy some great live music by the celebrated local band Goloka, and spend some time socializing into the night with all the wonderful participants and guests - as they get to meet you!

Saturday 14 November

This is the main day of the event, with a selection of great workshops, wonderful activities & entertainment all the way into the evening. Maria Sendow of The Awake Project will be giving an energetic full-day body & voice workshop and the skills of 'Craft Village' artisans Daniel, Ruben & Nisse will keep you busy outdoors with a friendly, social way of working together to provide a lasting creative contribution for the Gula Villan grounds. There will also be a workshop on 'Connectivity', an international initiative project with an exciting world event planned to take place in South Africa in 2011, and many more creative collaborations with various participants. In the evening we will be transforming the space into a wonderful night café and you'll get a chance to party with our special guest artist Guy Collins LIVE and then dance the night away with local DJ Jonas Färnlöf.

Sunday 15 November

On this day we are all invited into the life of YIP for a visit, tour and World Café experience and a great lunch to end the weekend. YIP is hosted at the Rudolf Steiner Seminariet i Ytterjärna, the centre for Anthroposophy in Scandinavia, which is situated in a beautiful area of leading biodynamic agriculture, just minutes away from Gula Villan.
